desire

look at you stand there and I think, chances are good might fuck my brains out in front of you, what my abundant interest holds in store for you *it makes my mind whirl all the possibilities

I want to try out*

do I have to beg or just get down on my knees to answer your prayers join me in union thought, time, place all disappear our own little death

anticipation of holding your body close makes me smile and weep

a delicate bloom now fragrant, furls and oozes trembling for your touch smiled invitation hints parting crimson desire where soft swallows hard divine skin on skin tender your wandering touch opens me to love

starts with a tingle soon becomes an urgent throb explodes with an oooh
